

Wagawin is a data-driven startup, which enables advertisers to easily create high performing, premium mobile advertisement, that is driving user engagement. At the same time, it provides the marketers data insights to optimize their strategy and budget allocation. With currently more than 20 employees in Munich, Berlin and Singapore, we are constantly looking for outstanding talents. Wagawin encourages its employees to contribute their own ideas to strengthen our unique software bundle.

In order to ensure the best performance, our international team is looking for a Berlin based

Associate Account Manager – Demand & Supply (m/f/x)

These tasks are waiting for you:

- Maintaining close communication with existing supply partners and liaising with Yield Management to successfully deliver Wagawin's ad campaigns
- Working closely with the Sales and Account Management teams and assisting them with client briefs by gathering information from various supply partners on an on-going basis
- Coordinating the billing process on a monthly basis with all supply partners
- Regular check in with direct/premium publishers to ensure we get the most optimal supply for our branding campaigns
- Troubleshooting programmatic deals and ensure they work efficiently
- Identification and acquisition of new strategic partners and publishers for Wagawin

What we offer:

- You work in a specialized sector in a rapidly growing industry, with a very steep learning curve
- Working in an international, open-minded team, you'll be consistently inspired by experienced professionals
- We encourage you to constantly contribute your own ideas
- Both professional and personal development is encouraged
- Flexible working hours on a base of trust
- A modern office located in Berlin Mitte close to Checkpoint Charlie

Required skills:

- Professional experience in branding or performance advertising, preferably in mobile advertising
- Understanding or willingness to learn the quickly-changing digital marketplace
- Basic knowledge in the digital advertising sector
- Outstanding internal and external communication skills
- English is required, an additional language is a plus

Does this job description match your profile? Please send your application papers to Linda Mock via jobs@wagawin.com. We look forward to hearing from you!